Every Day Additions: There is always something super fun that comes up because of all of you and the counselors. It might even be because of you, something you love that you bring in to share or something spontaneous with the group! We have lots of board games to choose from too.

Here's what some parents are saying:

"My son has lots of friends, but this program is a place to go beneath the surface instead of just roughhousing, playing video games and joking around. I felt like he grew a lot, became independent and made real friends outside of his school."

"Boys on the Go is the one thing my son is very clear he must do this summer. He had a great time playing at the park, walking and Barting around the area, and visiting the fun spots with a great group of guys. The counselors were that perfect mix of firm and sensitive, and the youth leaders/teenagers were present and up for any game the boys wanted to play. So great to know my son was with playful, creative, and grounded people!"
